

I'm here

I'M HERE
WITH KIDS

Phoenix Art Museum

WELCOME

We're really glad you're here together.

Phoenix Art Museum is a great place for family time. It's okay to not know much about art. Discover art with one another!

First, let's review some Museum manners:

- + Please don't touch the art. Our gallery attendants (they wear black shirts and big smiles) will extend a friendly reminder if they see you getting touchy-feely. Artwork is fragile, and touching can result in damage.
- + Pictures are encouraged most places in the Museum. If you're unsure, ask a gallery attendant.
- + We love sharing! Share your experience (and pics) with us @phxart #imherephxart.

While you're here...

Use these family-friendly resources during your visit:

Scavenger Hunts will give you a theme to discover in the Museum. Draw and write with a pencil.

The Hub is an interactive space designed for families and a great place for a break. Relax, look at art, read, and draw.

Need to stretch? Head to the Dorrance Sculpture Garden and enjoy some fresh air!

Artist Unknown Seated Buddha

Pose like this figure.

Is it difficult?

Have everyone in your group do it.

Who holds the pose best?

Claude Monet
Flowering Arches, Giverny

Look closely, then take a few steps back.

What changes?

Looking for even more things to do?

Visit phxart.org/events/family
for additional ideas!

Anish Kapoor
Upside Down, Inside Out

Who do you see?
Do they look familiar?

Jennifer Steinkamp
Mike Kelley 13

What season is this tree in? How do you know?
What do you hear? Smell?
Try and copy the motion you see.

from the cover:

Sui Jianguo Jurassic Age

On your way out, move around this dinosaur. Where is it from? Be careful not to touch. This sculpture has teeth.

cover, left:

Sui Jianguo
Jurassic Age, 2006
bronze, steel, industrial paint
Gift of Chaney Family Collection, Houston, Texas

interior, from left:

Carlos Amorales
Black Cloud, 2007 (installation view at Phoenix Art Museum, 2017)
paper
Collection of Diane and Bruce Halle

Unknown, Java
Seated Buddha Akshobhya, 9th century
andesite volcanic stone
Museum purchase with funds provided by Asian Arts
Council and gift of Dr. Victoria Chan-Palay, New York

Claude Monet
Les arceaux fleuris, Giverny (Flowering Arches, Giverny), 1913
oil on canvas
Gift of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Harrington

Anish Kapoor
Upside Down, Inside Out, 2003
resin and paint
Museum purchase with funds generously provided by Men's Arts Council Sculpture Endowment, Susan and Eliot Black, Jacquie and Bennett Dorrance, Ellen and Howard Katz,
Sally and Richard Lehmann, Robynn and Robert Sussman,
Wilde Family Trust, Heather and Michael Greenbaum,
Faith Sussman and Richard Corton, Mary Beth and Joseph Cherskov, Jerry Appell, Denise and Robert Delgado, and Patricia and Richard Nolan

Jennifer Steinkamp
Mike Kelley 13, 2008
digital projection
Museum purchase with funds provided by Contemporary Forum (ArtPick 2008)

Before you leave:

Come back to the Museum for more free family activities! Voluntary-donation times include Make It!, #FreeAfterThree Wednesdays, and more.

Visit phxart.org/events/family for more information.

A Family Membership is a great way to include the Museum in your family time and see every exhibition without an extra charge! Inquire about Membership at the visitor services desk on your way out today, or visit phxart.org.